TZP Group Exits Total Military Management

New York, NY – April 20, 2015 – TZP Group (“TZP”) today announced the realization of its investment in Total Military Management (“TMM”), a non asset-based provider and manager of military personnel relocations. Based in Jacksonville, Florida, TMM targets the fragmented $2.5 billion U.S. military moving and storage industry, which is comprised of approximately 300,000 annual relocations of the 1.3 million active duty U.S. military members and their families. TMM utilizes its sophisticated technology systems, operating infrastructure, and global network of service providers to manage the resource-intensive and administratively complex logistical tasks associated with domestic and international military relocations. Since its founding in 2003 by Matt Connell, TMM has become a leading outsourced provider in the military household relocation industry with a strong dedication to high levels of customer service.

“TMM’s business successfully evolved during its partnership with TZP and the transaction reflects the very essence of our firm’s strategy of being the Partner of Choice for management teams,” said Harris Newman, Managing Director for TZP. “We look forward to continuing our relationship with Matt and the TMM team and watching them continue to succeed at building this special company.”

Calling TZP a tremendous partner for TMM over the past three years, Matt Connell, President of Total Military Management, said. “We have enjoyed an incredible relationship with TZP that shows in the success of Total Military Management.”

Kent Stermon, COO and CFO of Total Military Management, added, “TZP has proven to be a trusted and valuable partner. With their support, our management team realized significant improvements in the business in a relatively short period of time. We are very appreciative of their contribution to our business.”

Harris Newman, Kyle Squillario and Ian Handsman worked on the transaction for TZP. Total Military Management was advised by Piper Jaffray and Kirkland & Ellis provided legal counsel.
